

Child Safeguarding Statement — Cork Midsummer Festival

1. Name of service being provided:

Cork Midsummer Festival

Our office premises are at Civic Trust House, 50 Pope's Quay, CORK CITY.

Our festival takes place in multiple locations around the city and in some county locations. The number of staff vary to each location depending on staff ratio to participant / audience legally required.

2. Nature of service and principles to safeguard children from harm (brief outline of what our service is, what we do and our commitment to safeguard children):

Our service:

Cork Midsummer Festival is an annual multi-disciplinary arts festival that uses the city as its backdrop and inspiration.

What we do:

It provides high-quality arts events, both national and international, for audiences of all ages. Its programme provides opportunities for significant public participation and engagement, supports the development of emerging artists across all artforms, and provides a unique platform for work by local and national artists.

The services we provide to children and young people are arts activity related;

- One off group workshops: drop-in and pre-booked both outdoors and indoors.
- Regular group workshops: as part of longer-term participatory projects either in schools or informal youth settings.
- Performances aimed at children and families including schools.
- Exhibitions aimed at general public.
- Outdoors events aimed at children and families.

Level of contact with children and families is as follows:

- One off group workshops: children and young people work with artists, leading on arts activity in an activity room or in a public space.
- Regular group workshops; children and young people work with artists, leading on arts activity in activity room for a number of sessions.

- Performances; minimal contact, booked by parents or schools with audience ushered by Front of House staff in to performances.
- Exhibitions; minimal contact, as part of school tours or in attendance with families,
- Outdoors events; some contact, assisting lost children and facilitating workshops (see above).

Some arts organisations/artists also deliver activities for children and young people as part of our festival programme.

Our service users:

- They can vary in age from early years (0 years upwards) to 18 years old.
- The level of ability varies.
- We provide no individual care needs as this is not within the festival's capabilities. Any individual care needs have to be provided by a parent/guardian or recognised carer.
- The dynamics of our client group vary from activity to activity but where an artist is involved, they would work with a group of children and young people to either develop their own art work on an individual basis or as a group together.
- The groups of children and young people vary in terms of backgrounds, this may include young people who need extra family support services or have intellectual disabilities.
- Where children and young people have additional support needs we always work with their carers in an activity room.

We currently have the following practices to safeguard children from harm:

- All artists have to have valid Garda Clearance to carry out workshop activities with children, young people and vulnerable people.
- Lost children facility for outdoors public events (5000 people plus)
- All paid staff coming into contact with children and young people through festival events have to have valid Garda Clearance
- Any artists/companies need to show proof of their own up to date Child Protection Policy and Safeguarding Statement.
- Any artists/companies providing services to children and young people need to show evidence of carrying out valid Garda Clearances as appropriate.
- Notify all volunteers signing up that they may be required to be Garda Vetted through the festival for specific events.
- Garda Vetting for volunteers / placements working on specific events with children, where appropriate.

What we need to develop in order to safeguard children from harm:

- We will introduce a lost children facility for outdoors public events on a case by case basis.
- Where appropriate An Gardaí to be given the name of staff and volunteers in advance of the festival.

Our commitment to safeguard children:
